Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

1. 35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

Claims 1-9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed invention is not supported by either a specific and substantial asserted utility or a well established utility.

Applicant claims a device for helping a non-20/20 vision viewer to see a television picture on a television screen better by influencing the television picture in accordance with a vision prescription of a viewer; however, it is not clear how the device work. Conventionally, in order to correct a farsighted or nearsighted vision, a compensation lens must be placed very close to the eyes. The closeness is approximately the length of the compensation lens focal length, which is less than an inch or two. By placing a correction lens or film in front of the television screen as in the instant invention, the abnormal vision of the viewer cannot be corrected because the correction lens or film is way out of the focal length. Similarly, by manipulating the television signal itself would not correct the viewer's abnormal vision because the image would appear out of focus without a proper pair of eyeglasses. Since the disclosure as originally presented does not provide further detail how the device provide vision correction other than the known method, it is considered no enabling.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

Art Unit: 2614

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claims 1-0 are also rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph. Specifically, since the claimed invention is not supported by either a specific and substantial asserted utility or a well established utility for the reasons set forth above, one skilled in the art clearly would not know how to use the claimed invention.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claims 1-4, 9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by DeJesus (5,061,052).

Regarding claim 1, DeJesus shows a Fresnel lens 18 and a plano-convex lens 16 for enhancing television pictures. Each of the of the lens is made according to a focal length of prescription as claimed (note col. 7, line 67, to col. 8, line 10).

Regarding claim 2, the focal lengths are not varying in DeJesus.

Regarding claim 3, see Figure 3.

Regarding claim 4, the enhancing system in DeJesus is detachable from the television screen (see Figure 2).

Regarding claim 9, see rejection to claim 1.

Art Unit: 2614

5. Claims 5-8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Stevens (6,018,339).

Regarding claim 5, Stevens discloses a device for controlling the focus of the television display in accordance with the eyesight or prescription of the viewer (see col. 3, line 64, to col. 4, line 9, and lines 20-37). The computer monitor is intended to display different video signals, such as television or computer video signals.

Regarding claim 6, the prescription does not change Stevens.

Regarding claims 7 and 8, the device in Stevens can be detached or attached to the system (col. 4, lines 38-47).

Conclusion

6. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
